What’s the latest news?

PaymentWorks Launch 10/18
The supplier onboarding and management system goes live with Oracle this October (this is a change from the original September date). Read more about what’s coming with PaymentWorks and get access to videos, training, FAQs and more on the blog.

Reporting & Analytics (R&A) Focus Group: This group recently held its second meeting. They meet for an hour every other week to review and provide thoughts on specific reports. The group is intentionally small, with reps from several schools and departments. Find out more about the R&A Focus Group here.

FST Decisions: Several project-related decisions have been finalized recently, including about expenditure credits, salary certification, and the FST Glossary. Other decisions are moving through the process now, such as workflow controls and approvals and intercompany transactions. The FST Decision Log is always there to get info.

Other updates
Latest FST Update, 5 Things, Optical Character Recognition for Invoices, and "How to Navigate Change" in the Finance Matters podcast

Workday Words: User Experience Review (UER) Testing
Expected to start in March 2022, UER is the final testing cycle of selected scenarios for a broad group of end users, focused on key processes mimicking real-world use of the Workday Financials system.

During that testing phase, users will get exposure to the system, as well as training, to confirm the system is configured properly. This time will also be when end users can provide input into the final transition-related communications, job aids, and training documents.

Stay in the know about Test Phase activities by keeping an on the new Testing Tracker in the blog.

Stay in Touch
We’re happy to help you and your teams however we can, so reach out!

financetransformation.virginia.edu
UVAFinance.blogspot.com
communityhub.virginia.edu